This is a home that uses space to create peace. Let's start with the 3½ baths. Think how many fights won't happen over who gets to take a shower first. Now look at your luxurious master suite. Note the dual walk-in closets that say "his" and "hers" – which can be translated as "his pile of dirty clothes won't get in the way of her finding the right pair of shoes." There's even a walk-in kitchen pantry, where canned soups and family-sized cereal boxes have all the space they could ask for. And when you consider that it's easy to add a fifth bedroom and a bonus room with another bath ... well, that's a lot of peace.
